

SUNSHINE GUIDE TO THE MANZANILLO AREA, COLIMA, MEXICO

LOCATION: Manzanillo, in Colima State, is located on Mexico's Pacific Coast. This major industrial port is situated on the southeast shore of the Bay of Manzanillo, between it and the marshy Laguna de Cuyutlan. Elevations are everywhere close to sea level. The resort areas of Los Hadas and Playa Azul are all north of the city, along the Bay.

COMMENTS: Bright sunshine is likely on 54% of the year's daylight hours. This might range from a low of 48% in July and September, to a high of 61% in February. The year's lowest temperature should be close to 58°, and the highest should be near 96°. Sensible summer afternoon temperatures (the ones you actually feel) will be up to 11° warmer than actual ones. There is little change in the length of the daylight period from one month to the next, and not much of a change in temperatures. The rainy season runs from June through October in most years. Afternoons during the rainy season are generally moderately sunny, very hot, and quite humid. Most of the rain falls during the night or in the early morning. The dry season runs from November through May. Afternoons are sunny, hot, and moderately humid. Showers will occur maybe twice or three times during the entire dry season.
